M'NEELAN DECIDES TO MAKE CAMPAIGN AT FALL ELECTION

Schaeffer, McNeelan And Reed After Chief Local Public Office.

THREE CONTESTS ONLY AT ELECTION

All Candidates In Each Town Announced By Election Board.

There will be three candidates for mayor in Salem at the November election. J. B. Schaeffer, Republican nominee, will be opposed by James McNeelan, Democrat, whose name was written on the ballot, and who has decided definitely to make the race, and Ralph Reed, Independent.

After the primaries in August, McNeelan announced that he probably would stay in race, even though his name had been written on the ballot by his friends. Saturday he stated that he had changed his mind and would oppose the Republican nominee who beat John W. Post, present incumbent, so decisively in the primary election.

Reed will be the third party in the race.

There are but two other contests in local politics this fall. R. L. Schiller, Democrat, whose name was written in on the ballot in August, will oppose L. B. Harris, Republican, for city solicitor. Samuel Krauss, Democrat, will oppose William Probert, Republican, for councilman of the Third ward.

In addition to the state issues that will be voted on there will be the $200,000 Salem water bond issue and the $100,000 bond issue for the proposed new county jail. The water project is the Cold Run proposition.

Following is a list of all persons running for the various offices in Salem, nearby towns, villages, and townships.

Gov. Warren T. McCray.

Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana, whose financial difficulties have widened to include national politics, now faces ouster proceedings as a result of the alleged use of state money for private financing.

LEETONIA READY FOR CELEBRATION AT ST. PATRICK'S

Famous Sons Will Get In Some Time Saturday Night.

BISHOP SCHREMB'S IS CHIEF SPEAKER

Crowds Expected To Be At Fiftieth Jubilee Celebration.

Leetonia is today preparing for the largest crowd of out of town visitors in the town's history. St. Patrick's parish and church Sunday will observe the golden anniversary of the founding of the church and the entire little town will turn out en masse to welcome back home for the celebration several of her famous sons who have risen to high places in the Catholic church and also the distinguished guests who will participate in the ceremonies.

Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president emeritus of Notre Dame university, ordained in 1894, is expected to arrive late Saturday. He will pronounce the benediction at 5 p. m. Sunday.

Rev. Anthony J. Dean of Toledo, dean of Chapel cathedral there, will arrive in Salem Saturday afternoon when he will visit his brother, P. J. Dean, before going on to Leetonia.

Rev. James Ready, C. S. C., professor at St. Edward's college, Austin, Texas, is expected but no definite word had been received from him.

Bishop Joseph Schrembs of the Cleveland diocese of the church will give pontifical mass at the opening service at 10:30 a. m.

Those in charge of the arrangements state that all services of the jubilee are open to the public and the committee will have several subcommittees to welcome out of town visitors.

At 8 p. m. Hon. E. H. Moore of Cleveland and Youngstown will address an open meeting at the Knights of Columbus hall. The public is urged to attend this meeting which will be a semi-social affair.

Following is the complete program for the 50th anniversary celebration: 10:30 a. m. Pontifical high mass, by the Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, B. D., celebrant, jubilee sermon, by the Rev. M. F. Griffin, L. L. D. 1 p. m. Dinner served on the church lawn. 1 to 5 p. m.—Reception and reunion. 5 p. m.—Benediction, Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C.—Celebrant. 8 p. m.—Public meeting at the K. of C. hall. Address by the Hon. E. H. Moore of Cleveland and Youngstown Musical program; orchestra selections. 9 a. m.—Monday, Oct. 8, Requiem high mass for deceased of the parish.

Show Your Appreciation (EDITORIAL)

Sunday will witness the laying of the cornerstone of a public building that will mean much to the growth and progress of Salem. It is to be a community building, a recreational center where groups of all ages may gather for the conduct of their business, for the promotion of organized play and other recreational activities and athletic diversions.

It will provide facilities for the expansion of the Community House activities, a stage for the promotion of community plays, rooms in which patriotic organizations and others may meet, pool room and other diversions. In brief, it is to be a building for the people of Salem. And how fortunate will Salem be to possess such a civic home—the dream of many communities larger than Salem, which has never been fulfilled.

All this has been made possible by the beneficence of W. H. Mullins, who gave the money to the people of Salem that they might erect a suitable memorial to perpetuate the deeds of all those who served in any capacity in the World war. We wonder how many appreciate fully just what that gift will mean to Salem in future years. It was a gift without strings. When Mr. Mullins donated $100,000 for this purpose, he turned the money over to the people of Salem and asked that they erect the memorial without any suggestions or directions from him.

In view of his generosity and his faith in the judgment of the community to build well and for the benefit of every group in the city, it is fitting that on the morrow the entire community turn out to the cornerstone laying ceremonies, that their presence alone may be the first public expression of a sincere appreciation of this generous gift to the community.

That form of appreciation, to be followed later by a generous use of the building, is the only means of publicly acknowledging the community's heartfelt gratitude. Let the community show that it does appreciate this gift.

ADD FEATURES TO MEMORIAL PLANS SUNDAY

Add Several Features To Cornerstone Laying Ceremony.

The laying of the cornerstone of the World War Memorial on McKinley ave. at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, will be another milestone in the civic progress of Salem. This fine building will be the memorial to all who participated in the World war in any capacity, whether in the ranks of the army, navy, marines, those who served behind the lines in Red Cross, and other war work organizations, and to the thousands of citizens who bought Liberty bonds and helped in numerous other ways. The war released for active service emotions and energies and led people of all ages and conditions to make sacrifices for their country's sake. This is their memorial.

On Sunday afternoon traffic will be diverted from McKinley ave. between the hours of 3:30 and 4:30 so that the simple, yet solemn, service may proceed without disturbance. The city authorities will cooperate in this and will be assisted by Boy Scouts in uniform who have volunteered their services.

The program has been changed slightly and is as follows: Band concert, Quaker City band; invocation, Rev. A. J. Manning; placing of the records in the cornerstone and remarks by Rev. H. L. Miller; laying of the cornerstone, L. P. Metzger; instrumental selection, member of the Quaker City band; address, Prof. J. S. Alan, superintendent of schools; selection, Miss Mary Meilinger, with band accompaniment.

Address, L. P. Metzger, president of the Memorial association; benediction, Dr. P. H. Gordon; "Star Spangled Banner," Quaker City band.

In the event of the day being too cold or disagreeable for holding the exercises out of doors the Baptist church has invited the association to hold the exercises there.

The public is cordially invited to this service. Invitations have been sent to organization only. No attempt was made to issue personal invitations since the entire city is invited.

START 40 HOUR'S DEVOTION SUNDAY

With the 8 a. m. service Sunday, 40 hours of devotion will start at St. Paul's Catholic church, McKinley ave. The men's choir will sing special music.

At 7:30 p. m. Sunday, Rev. C. J. Mahoney of Alliance will preach; Rev. Edward J. Gracy of Mantua will preach at 7:30 p. m. Monday and at the closing service at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday Rev. Richard Gibbons of Leetonia will preach.

STORES WILL GIVE $400 IN GOLD TO BUYERS NEXT WEEK

Each Person Buying Most At Each Store Will Receive $20.

As a special attraction to shoppers the 21 merchants participating in the Salem Booster Week which starts Monday night, will give $20 in gold to the person buying the most merchandise at each store. Patrons of the stores will be asked to deposit their duplicate sales slips, on which they have written their names, in a box at the entrance of the store. The winners will be announced in The News the Monday following the great sales event.

The $20 which will be given away is, of course, to encourage buying in large quantities during the week. But all merchants emphasize the fact that no old merchandise will be offered. All merchandise sold will be new fall goods.

Weeks of preparation have been necessary to work out all the details in connection with this trade extension event. The committee in charge announces that all is in readiness for the grand opening Monday night.

The Chamber of Commerce has arranged a ladies rest room at the headquarters for the benefit of all feminine shoppers. There will be a piano in the rest room for any informal entertainment.

The general committee has established headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce and there will be some one in charge at all times from whom information can be secured.

CHILD IS FATALLY INJURED BY AUTO

Lillian Wiggers, Aged 4, Will Die As Result Of Injuries.

Lillian Wiggers, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wiggers, Ellsworth ave., was perhaps fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile in an accident shortly after noon Saturday on the Ellsworth rd. not far from the Charles S. Carr residence.

The little girl with an older sister was going down the road and it is said that when the older girl saw the machine approaching that she caught Lillian's hand to get her out of the path of the machine.

She jerked away and got in front of the machine, which struck her, causing probably fatal injuries.

The child was taken to the Central Clinic hospital and while the extent of her injuries was not learned, she is reported in a critical condition.

Volunteers Given Big Welcome Home

Sofia, Oct. 6.—The Bulgarian government today sent communication to Belgrade seeking extradition of 700 Communists who fled into Yugoslavia when the Red counter revolution collapsed.

Volunteers who assisted the regulars in putting down the red rising were given a great civic welcome when they returned to Sofia today. Streets were filled with crowds. The buildings were covered with flags.

Salvation Army Will Hold Albany Services

Beginning Tuesday night a series of special services will be held at the Union church at Albany under the auspices of the Salem (Salvation Army).

At 7:30 p. m. Tuesday Mrs. W. B. Ward will preside and the meetings will continue for a week or more as long as interest is shown.

OFFICERS ELECTED ON CLOSING DAY OF REBEKAH ASSEMBLY

Over 400 People Attend Twelfth Annual Session Of Ohio Assembly.

MEMBERSHIP CUP IS AWARDED TO LISBON

Seven Lodges Comprise District Which Met In Convention.

Nearly 400 people attended the closing session of the 12th annual special session of the Ohio Rebekah assembly, District No. 30, Friday evening at 10 o'clock at the O. O. F. hall, Broadway, at which members of Home lodge No. 110, Daughters of Rebekah, were hostesses. It was one of the most successful conventions the district has ever had.

A feature of this session was the exemplification of the Rebekah degree by the local degree staff captained by Mrs. Cora L. Schwartz. The work is said to have been unusually fine. The team members appeared in their new robes for the first time.

Other pleasing numbers were vocal solos by Mrs. Virginia Peelle of Wilmington, state president; Miss Lucie Halverstad of Alliance; and Mrs. Blackburn of Alliance, Miss Dorothy Rantz of Alliance, gave a reading, "Mother," which was well received. Mrs. Emma M. Bell, Columbus, state secretary, attended.

Miss Phila Fields of Salem, in an excellent talk welcomed the visitors at the opening session at 10 a. m., and the original poem she gave received much applause. Miss Dorothy Rantz of Alliance, gave a splendid response.

Every lodge of the seven which comprise the district was represented and there were about 175 out of town visitors at the day sessions.

Elect New Officers

Mrs. Virginia Peelle the state president, had charge of the school of instruction at the afternoon session.

Miss Fields with 21 assistants, conducted a very impressive memorial service for the members in the district who had died in the last year. One lodge had no deaths during the year.

Here are the officers chosen for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Cora Caldwell, Lisbon; vice president, Mary Eans, Salem; secretary, Martha Webber, Lisbon; treasurer, Tullio McNulty, Leetonia; wardens, Nay Kitchell, East Palestine; conductors, Bertha Myers, Colmbiana; chaplain, Mrs. W. E. Mumblan, Salem; inside guardian, Mrs. Mounts, Salem; outside guardian, Mrs. Badger, Alliance; guardian, Miss Helen Gibbs, Lisbon; Miss Oyada Strawn, of Damascus, a member of Home lodge, is on the executive committee.

Lisbon Wins Cup

The Lisbon lodge won the silver loving cup in the contest for new members conducted by the lodges in the district for one year. The lodge made a gain of 37 per cent. East Palestine lodge had the next highest per cent gain.

A free will offering taken for the Children's home at Springfield amounted to $88.28.

The next annual meeting will be at Lisbon.

Lodges which compose the district are: Alliance, Salem, Leetonia, Lisbon, Colmbiana, Sebring and East Palestine.

PUT BOOZE MAKERS ON STAND TODAY

Arrange 87 Men Who Conspired To Violate U. S. Rum Laws.

Wheeling, Oct. 6.—When federal court convened this morning at the trial of the first nine of the 87 alleged conspirators to violate the Volstead act, C. M. Hovey, of Jacksonville, Tenn., was again on the stand under further examination as to the disposal of alcohol in railroad lots from the Nashville Industrial corporation, of Nashville, Tenn., of which he is assistant manager. He testified that Cecil H. Kerns of Columbus, O., one of the indicted men, was the contractor in the purchase of 200,000 gallons of beverage alcohol practically all of which was pure grain alcohol and suitable for beverage purposes. Kerns has pleaded guilty, and is expected to be placed on the stand today by the government. He is under sentence of two years at present at Atlanta.

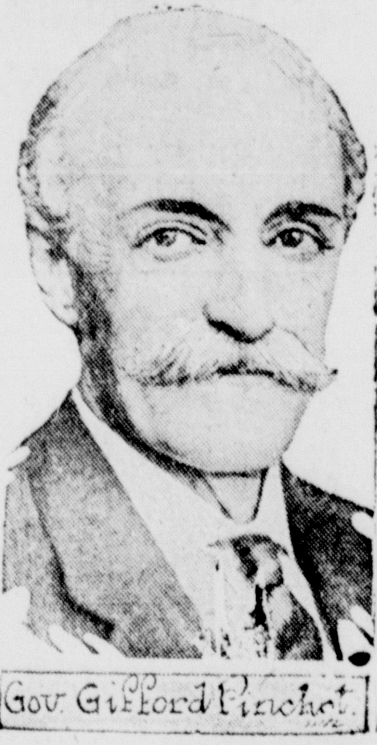

Indications point to the present trial consuming almost the entire coming week.

ENGLISH PAPERS ATTACK CURZON

London, Oct. 6.—Nearly all sections of the press joined today in assailing Foreign Secretary Lord Curzon's speech before the British Imperial conference for its lack of a decisive reparations policy. Newspapers of all shades of opinion demanded action along definite lines, deploring the policy of "watchful waiting."

Mrs. Bertha I. White, of Los Angeles, Calif., is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. R. B. Heaton, Highland ave. Mrs. White will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Heaton when they go south in November.

Gov. Pinchot Orders Dry Law Enforcement.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania has sent state troopers to the 1,300 saloons in Philadelphia, ordering them to close forthwith. Raids on 700 places already have been made.

LOYD GEORGE ON WAY TO MONTREAL FOR BRIEF TOUR

New York, Oct. 6.—Still glowing from his warm welcome in New York David Lloyd George, ex-premier of Great Britain, left here shortly before 9 o'clock this morning for Canada. He will make a number of speeches before returning to the United States later this month.

The ex-premier was given a hearty send-off from the thousands of commuters that thronged Grand Central station at the time of his departure.

Lloyd George left New York on a special train, running as a second section to the Empire State express. Stops were made at Albany, Troy, Burlington and Rutland, on this side of the border. His train was made up of New York Central and Canadian National cars, and in his immediate party were Governor Smith, ex-Governor Martin Glynn, Sir Henry Thornton, director of Canadian railways and Mrs. Thornton and other officers of the Canadian railway system. The Americans in the party will leave the train at Rouse's Point, on the Canadian boundary.

Was Historic Visit

The first Canadian stop will be made at Montreal, and from there the former premier will inaugurate a tour of the dominion to thank Canadians for their supreme efforts during the war.

Seldom has New York accorded any foreign visitor the warmth of welcome that was extended to the little Welshman. His 29 hours in the city were filled with crowds, cheer and expressions of good will.

The only untoward incident in connection with his visit here was the effort of radical Irish sympathizers to make known their dislike for him. They paraded the streets in autos with huge placards and red fire, telling the world of their aversion to the statesman who brought about the Free State. Eggs were even cast in his general direction at a theatre here last night, but the ex-premier took no umbrage at these manifestations of unpopularity. He was used to such things, he said.

Lloyd George will spend ten days in Canada, and then re-enter the United States through Minnesota, inaugurating his American tour at Minneapolis. He will return to New York and sail for England early in November.

FATHER AND SMALL SON ARE INJURED

Friday was a hard luck day for the Neulheisen family of East Palestine. At 11 a. m. Charles, 3, fell on a milk bottle in the yard at their home and nearly severed one of his arms, requiring eight stitches.

A half hour later the father, Arthur Neulheisen, while engaged placing a 20-horsepower motor in the McRoberts flour mills was severely injured. A crow bar used in leveling the motor slipped and struck the man over the right eye. For some time it was believed that his skull was fractured and he was removed to his home in an unconscious condition.

GIANT U. S. LINER BATTLES STORMS

Southampton, Oct. 6.—The giant liner, Leviathan, reached here today battling through the worst hurricane the vessel ever encountered. The waves at times reached the top deck of the vessel. Portholes were smashed and once the great liner had to heave in order to avoid being swamped. Captain Hartley, who was on continuous duty for six days, declared it was the hardest test the Leviathan had had to face, but asserted that she stood it well. Several members of the crew suffered minor injuries. A great deal of furniture was smashed.

AMMONIA IS BEING USED BY SOLDIERS TO ROUT CONVICTS

Fumes Will Kill Men Or Drive Them Out Of Their Barricade.

FAIL TO DRIVE MEN OUT AFTER 4 DAYS

Arrest Leader's Wife On Charge She Aided In Mutiny.

State Penitentiary, Eddyville, Ky., Oct. 6.—Two drums of compressed ammonia were set up at the prison chapel in an effort this afternoon to rout the three felons in the dining hall whose stubborn resistance to militia and penitentiary guards is now in its fourth day. Prison officials will attempt to smother the trio by shoving a one-inch pipe from the chapel across the intervening space of 75 feet, and into a window of the dining hall and sending the deadly gas through it. The plan to dynamite the building has been abandoned.

The beheaded trio of convicts in the prison dining hall still live, prison officials learned at the start of the day.

The glare of automobile searchlights turned on the dining hall before dawn today while the withering machine gun and rifle grenades fire was renewed, revealed two of the convicts lying on the floor of the mess hall, while the third stood nearby.

Fumes Will Kill Fellows

If the ammonia attack is successful, prison officials said, it will mean the almost instant death of the three convicts. One pound of the chemical will produce fumes sufficient to kill 50 persons. It was pointed out.

Thirty-three additional guardsmen arrived at the prison today to reinforce the half hundred who have been assigned to the prison since the trio attempted to shoot their way to freedom Wednesday morning, slaying one guard and wounding two others so seriously that they died the next day.

The trapped convicts have returned a pattering and feeble fire to the machine gun attack in the last 24 hours. They are believed conserving their slender store of ammunition.

Arrest Leader's Wife

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Lillian Walters, wife of the reputed leader of the mutiny in the Western State penitentiary at Eddyville, was arrested early today on a charge of aiding and abetting prisoners to escape.

The police, who had at first indicated Mrs. Walters had been absolved of any connection with the plot, said new evidence has been obtained implicating her in the attempted escape of her husband, Monte Walters and his two companions.

STRESEMAN WILL REDEEM OFFERS TO FRANCE ON MONDAY

Will Resume Conference On Reparations With The Allies.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—Chancellor Gustav Stresemann announced in the Reichstag today he would redeem his last reparations offers to France and the allies. Since the offer was previously made Germany has met France's demand that passive resistance in the Ruhr be ended.

The chancellor said the government would maintain an anti-trust policy breaking up big monopolies. On Monday a measure will be debated and passed upon authorizing the government to resume reparations proposals to the allies.

Introduce Cabinet

Berlin, Oct. 6.—The reconstituted German coalition cabinet was introduced to the reichstag today by Chancellor Stresemann amid shouts and jeers of the Communist members.

The changes were that Dr. Luther, succeeded Herr Hiltbrand as minister of finance, while Herr Koeth becomes minister of economics.

Chancellor Stresemann made a speech which was continually interrupted by the Communists. He admitted for the first time that the government formerly supported resistance against Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr. Then he explained why the government decided to give up resistance, saying: "Do you gentlemen of the Reich believe that the greatest military power in the world (France) would simply evacuate the Ruhr unconditionally?"

There were shouts of "Stinnes' cabinet" from the Communist members. Chancellor Stresemann interrupted his speech to say: "Stinnes has nothing to do with this cabinet whatsoever." He continued:

"Two days after my entrance into office, residents of the Ruhr came to me and demanded abandonment of passive resistance."

Mrs. C. G. Jaynes, of Webster, N. Y., is visiting at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Beers, North Union st. Their son, George, student at Denison university, is home for the week end.

Successful Refunding By Canada

The government of the Dominion of Canada has completed a great undertaking. By the successful fi-tation of a debt-refunding bond issue of $172,000,000 it has demonstrated that Canada is able to swing a large financial proposition with her own resources, despite the burden of a $2-

600,000,000 assumed by her as a part of her contribution to the prosecution of the war.

When it is understood that this refunding is one of the Dominion's war issues, that it has been done at 5 per cent and that 85 per cent of it was taken by Canadians, a good idea may be formed of the remarkable development of that country in financial strength in very recent years. The issue does not seem large in comparison with the refunding that has been done by the United States treasury.

On the basis of population, however, this Canadian issue is equivalent to one of $2,250,000,000 in the United States. This comparison gives a different aspect to the achievement of the Dominion government.

Bankers and bond houses of the United States stood ready to rebundance the Canadian issue as a profitable investment. The Dominion government desired to place as much as possible of the refunding bonds at home because of the discount on Canadian funds in New York. Appeals were made to patriotism to keep the loan at home, to keep the interest at home and to show the world that Canada is coming to a stature where she is able to finance herself. Yet the government did not anticipate home subscriptions in excess of three fourths of the loan.

The result shows clearly that there is no reason to be pessimistic about

Canada. Had the government appreciated this more fully at the beginning of the refunding the whole of the loan could have been placed at home. The 15 per cent not so taken was disposed of to eager outsiders

before the full extent of the home demand for the bonds was impressed upon the government and before the offering could be withdrawn from outside money centers.

More Adulteration

THE National Cereal Products Laboratories of Washington, D. C., examining 37 different brands of self-rising flour, failed to find one that did not contain an overdose of soda.

The startling discovery is said to have been made that many of the flours consist of inferior grades of wheat, corn or rice starch, chemically treated, sometimes through the action of chlorine gas (which was used as a weapon of destruction in the World war) and dosed plentifully with alkaline. Alfred W. McCann, the justly famous food expert of The New York

Evening Mail, deserves credit for giving these facts a shrieking publicity.

As he points out, none of the federal food laws affords any protection against this particular kind of adulteration.

It seems there must be a loud and arduous campaign in the case of each and every kind of food that goes into our homes, in order to secure legislation which will keep it pure,

since there is a class of food manufacturers who care not at all whether they sell the public nourishing products or near-poisons.

Any home cook knows that too much soda or baking powder in her biscuits is likely to cause indigestion and physicians have much more to say of the evil effects of such overdoses. A few years ago there was a terrific pure food campaign which bore some good fruits. If honest dealing can come in no other way, by all means let us have another, and an educative campaign, too, so that health-giving foods may be appreciated, demanded and furnished. Public education has already accomplished much in the way of improving our diet but it is no time to stop. Manufacturers, many of them perhaps in need of education, can rid their products of harmful ingredients; and they will be quick to do so, if the public demand is strong enough.

WHERE IS YOUR STOMACH?

If you were asked to put your hand on the part of your abdomen under which you thought your stomach was located I just wonder where you would put it?

Well your stomach may be right up underneath your heart or it may be away down at the lowest part of your abdomen, a foot or more away from your heart.

The exact location of any particular stomach was rather hard to find prior to the advent of the X-ray.

Skilled physicians were able to locate certain portions of it, but it was an unsatisfactory method.

Then the idea of filling the stomach with gas so as to get an outline of it was tried. This likewise was unsatisfactory.

But with the use of a mixture that would throw a black shadow on a photographic plate—some bismuth in milk—the complete outline of the stomach was secured.

Positions were then shown that were a revelation to physicians. Some showed the stomach right up under the heart, or on a cross ways position, others a perpendicular position right at lower part of abdomen.

What does this mean? That your stomach will try to do its work from any position in the abdomen.

Can it do its work as well, from the very low down position? Not by any means.

You see the simple matter of mechanics enters into the realm of that body of yours, and although the stomach throws food into the small intestine slightly up hill by means of its muscular walls, there is such a thing as asking it to do too much.

Thus if the lower part of stomach is away down in the abdomen, and the upper part which enters small intestine is away up at a point near where the ribs meet the breast bone, you can see that there is going to be some difficulty in getting the food from the stomach into the intestine.

Now what about it?

Well if you are feeling in good shape, no indigestion or stomach pains, it can't make much difference

just where your stomach is located.

However, if you have much disturbance in your stomach, ask your doctor what he thinks about a bismuth meal in your case.

If your stomach is not in its proper position and there's no growth or other condition, then a good wide belt will help you until you get your own abdominal muscles developed sufficiently to hold your organs in their right place. In the meantime sit erect and stand erect.

TO CANTON

E. J. Meinhardt, the well known Expert from Chicago, will personally be at the Courtland Hotel, Canton, Ohio,

on Friday and Saturday only, Oct. 12th and 13th.

Mr. Meinhardt says "The Vacuum

Rupture Shield" will not only hold the rupture perfectly, but will contract

the opening in ten days on the average case, usually giving instant relief withstanding all strain regardless of the size and location of the rupture. This instrument is highly indorsed for producing results in the United States and foreign countries without the use of surgery, medical treatment, prescriptions or injections.

Caution: Ruptured persons should beware of old-style trusses with under-straps. These trusses usually place the pad on the lump and not on the rupture opening. This often causes serious trouble resulting in surgical operation and necessitating a surgical operation. Mr. Meinhardt will be glad to demonstrate free to all who call at the hotel from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., the "Vacuum Shield." The largest and most difficult cases, those of old operations, are especially desired.

Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section and he will be here for one day only.

Notice: Do not write asking to be fitted by mail as this is impossible.

Every case must be seen personally.

If interested, you must call at this hotel on the above date.

Fashion Demands Dresses

For many a year suits have been the mainstay of the up-to-date woman's wardrobe, but this fall finds cloth dresses disputing their supremacy. One of these handsome rivals of the suit is pictured above, made of tulle in a dark color and brightened with embroidery in several colors. Its striking new style features are a high turn-over collar, long, bell sleeves and ankle-length skirts with side panels attached along one of their edges.

ISOLDE WAGNER'S DAUGHTER

German Courts Settle Dispute as to Legitimacy of Offspring of Famous Musician.

Frau Isolda Biedler, the eldest daughter of Richard Wagner, was born fifty-six years ago, although her mother, Cosima, was legally the wife of Hans von Bülow, the composer and pianist. In the period preceding Isolda's birth, Cosima, Wagner and Bülow lived together, but Wagner always regarded Isolda as his daughter, and named her after the favorite of his opera characters. Isolda became the wife of Johann Biedler, a well-known German orchestra leader. Several years ago she defended her illegitimacy in court, when her sister Eva sought to deprive her of any share in the Wagner estate on the ground that Isolda was the daughter of Bülow, not of Wagner. Eva is the wife of Houston Stewart Chamberlain, an English author, who is a naturalized citizen of Germany, and who, during the late war, received the Iron Cross from the ex-kaiser as a reward for his bitter attacks on England, published in the German magazines.

Frau Cosima testified to her belief that Bülow was the father of Isolda, but the courts decided that Isolda is Wagner's daughter.

Chic Current Style

Every woman who aspires to owning a youthful chic wrap has only to choose the handsome box coat pictured here. The design cannot be improved upon. It is made of astrakhan cloth in two colors, but might be copied in a different fur fabric and be equally handsome. The huge, fine buttons are used for ornament, and the smaller ones for fastening.

SOCIETY

Annual Bank Dinner
Fifteen employees of the First National bank enjoyed their annual dinner Friday night. It was served in the Methodist church at Winona. The company motored to that village for the dinner and later went to the home of Mrs. Homer Reynolds, near Hanover, where they devoted the remainder of the evening to music, dancing and informal pastimes.

Mrs. Reynolds was formerly Miss Esther Burton, an employee of the bank. The bank each year entertains its employees at a dinner, this being the fourth annual affair.

Club Holds Reunion
Associates of the Friendship Literary club held a reunion Friday evening with a dinner at the E. K. home and progressive party.

Following the dinner the guests went to the home of Miss Tamar Thuman, Franklin ave., where games and music entertained. Then they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Haddi and here spent some time with music and games affording pleasure. Out-of-town guests were from Alliance and Sebring.

Elder Hall
Miss Mildred Elser of Columbiana and Herbert Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall of Leota, were the principals in a pretty wedding Wednesday evening at the M. E. church, Columbiana. The ring service was read by Rev. A. G. Rupert. After the wedding a dinner was served at the bride's home by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dishong. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will reside in Columbiana.

Honor Recent Bride
Mrs. Charles Knisley was honored Thursday night when her cousin, Mrs. Paul Covert entertained for her at Covert's residence in Depot st. Ten of the honored guest's intimate associates were included in the guest list and they presented her with fine gifts. Until her recent marriage she was Miss Margaret White. The decorations consisted of flowers and Mrs. Covert served a lunch.

Birthday Party
Miss Dorothy Bodendorfer of East High st., gave a party Friday evening at her home to celebrate her birthday anniversary. The guests were members of Thistle troop, Girl Scouts, captained by Miss Rebecca Davis. Games were played and music entertained. Mrs. Bodendorfer served a pleasing lunch. Miss Dorothy received a number of presents.

Man-Girl Freed in Murder Trial

F. A. McDonnell and Freddie Thompson

Freddie G. Thompson of Chicago, the strange combination of masculine and feminine, has been freed by a jury there on the charge of murdering Richard C. Tesmer, who was shot down by a highwayman in his wife's presence. Thompson appeared in court in satin trousers and open shirt-waist, with his hair done up like a woman's and with rouge on his face. He was angry because the court refused to permit him to wear woman's garb, which he had worn for years. He talks like a woman, acts like a woman and wants to be considered a woman. For years he had lived with his "husband" as a "wife." He was defended by Attorney F. A. McDonnell.

KIDNAPPER MUST SERVE SENTENCE

Canton, Oct. 5.—The conviction of J. B. Cox, former head of the J. B. Cox Transportation company, operating buses between Canton, Akron and Alliance, on a charge of kidnapping Frank A. Holmes, Alliance newspaper publisher, with intent to extort money was upheld today by the district court of appeals.

Cox was sentenced to serve from seven to 20 years in the state penitentiary. He has been held in the county jail here in default of $5,000.

OBITUARY

Walter Bush
Walter Bush, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bush, of Greenford, died late Friday, according to word received here Saturday morning.

Walter is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bush and several brothers and sisters. Funeral service will be at 2 p. m. Monday at the Greenford Lutheran church, Rev. J. P. Harman, officiating.

STOCKS

MARKET IS DULL
New York, Oct. 6.—The stock market opened dull and featureless today. Fractional advances and declines were about evenly divided. Willy-Overland preferred was the only issue registering a wider change yielding 2 1/2 points to 50 1/4.

U. S. Steel yielded 1/4 to 88 and Baldwin 1/4 to 118 1/4.

Anacosta lost 1/4 to 38 1/4 and Cerro de Pasco 1/4 to 39 1/4. Kennecott rose 1/4 to 34 1/4.

Studebaker yielded 1/4 to 97 1/4. Pan American was heavy, losing 1/4 to 68.

Other oils were steady. Sinclair at 20 1/4 and California Petroleum at 20 1/4, were up 1/4.

Chesapeake and Ohio advanced 1/4 to 65 1/4. Baltimore and Ohio 1/4 to 58 1/4 and New York Central 1/4 to 101 3/4.

American Can rose 1/4 to 92 1/4. Continental Can off 1/4 to 49 1/4. Dupont off 1/4 to 128. Cast Iron Pipe up 1/4 to 38 1/4 and Woolen off 1/4 to 72 1/4.

Studebaker Comments On Four-Wheel Brakes

There is little difference mechanically between two-wheel brake and four-wheel brake mechanisms.

Front-wheel brakes are merely added capacity, of conventional design. All four brakes are operated by the foot pedal.

The emergency brakes on rear wheels or transmission, operated by the hand lever, are retained in all four-wheel brake systems.

Controversy already exists between four-wheel brake advocates as to the relative merit of external or internal types of brake pressure on front wheels.

The duplication of parts, added weight, and increased friction of four-wheel brakes are common knowledge.

If four-wheel brakes were necessary, safe, and simple in operation, their existence would be justified, even with these impedimenta.

The factory makes proper adjustment of clearances between brake linings and drums.

After the factory ships the car, its responsibility ceases for brake adjustments, and the responsibility is shifted to the owner.

Electric starters, battery ignition, and vacuum tanks are acknowledged developments in the evolution of the automobile. They are built complete, encased in housings by the factory, are fully automatic and require few adjustments. Four-wheel brakes are in an entirely different category.

Numerous dealers and factory branch salesmen selling four-wheel brake cars, are already advising buyers that the front brakes may be disconnected, if they are not wanted. This would mean, of course, that the extra weight and impedimenta would be carried around uselessly.

Other front-wheel brakes are adjusted for such weak pressure that they cannot lock the front wheels, and the brakes are thus merely camouflage.

Four-wheel brakes will cause more trouble and accidents in a month than they will prevent in a year.

In fact, the Rolls-Royce Company states that "they show such decidedly dangerous disadvantages that they are considered unsafe to put in the hands of the general public, and are not nearly the equal of the powerful, efficient, lasting, and easily equalized brake design now employed in our design."

Four-wheel brakes have been a bone of contention in England since 1910, and yet today only 5 or 6 of the 100,000 English-made cars use them at all. Several manufacturers use them as optional equipment, and furnish them on one of their models only.

Adherents of four-wheel brakes claim that they (1) permit quicker stopping and (2) prevent skidding. These are the only claims made for four-wheel brakes. With front-wheel brakes fully applied, quicker stopping is possible. This is not denied.

That quick stopping which locks the front wheels is an advantage, is vigorously denied. Such stopping is positively dangerous, because steering control is immediately lost.

The claim that four-wheel brakes prevent skidding and sliding is denied. No matter what kind of brakes are used, skidding will occur if wheels are locked before the momentum of the car is offset by the resistance of the road or pavement, whether dry or wet.

Skidding on wet pavements can be reduced to the minimum, with either two- or four-wheel brakes, only by slowing down speed and gentle brake pressure with clutch engaged.

Disadvantages of Four-Wheel Brakes

Against the only advantage (?) of four-wheel brakes, namely, quicker stopping, there are six serious disadvantages which make them mechanically impracticable, dangerous, uncomfortable, and expensive to owners, as follows:

1. Danger of Accidents. With permission, we quote from a recent circular of the Rolls-Royce Company to their dealers, upon which we cannot improve:

"Basically, the fault with front-wheel brakes lies in the danger of front-wheel skids, which are uncontrollable and consequently vastly more dangerous than a rear-wheel skid.

"It must be appreciated, first of all, that for their ability to steer the car the front wheels depend on their rolling motion. When front wheels cease to roll they lose all power to steer the car, which slides straight ahead on a flat road, or into the ditch if on a crowned or cambered road.

"When the brakes are used in an emergency it is of primary importance that the direction of the car should be under control; that is, that the car can be steered from the time that the brakes are applied until it is brought to a complete stop.

"When an obstacle suddenly presents itself (as in night driving) the driver's instinct is to immediately apply the brakes as hard as possible.

"If, under these conditions, the front wheels are suddenly locked, disaster may overtake the driver, through inability to control the car's direction, even though it may stop before meeting the obstacle.

"In traffic driving, the ability to dodge—to control the direction of the car—is of almost equal importance with the ability to stop.

"On a wet or sprinkled city street, granting that the front-wheel brakes were perfectly equalized, the car would slide straight ahead unable to take advantage of traffic conditions, either right or left.

"If the brakes were not perfectly equalized, immediately the pressure was applied, the front wheels would take on a skid, which would be uncontrollable, in whichever direction the equalization of the brakes was faulty.

"In traffic driving, under most favorable conditions (perfectly equalized brakes and dry pavement) a sudden application of the brakes checks the car so precipitately that cars following have been known to crash into the car ahead, causing a rear end wreck, without having stopping room and time.

"It is, of course, a serious difficulty of keeping the brakes properly equalized.

"Aside from the above apparent defects in front or four-wheel braking, there is the stiffening effect on the steering to take into consideration when the brakes are applied, and the drag on the steering unless the brakes are set on both wheels is absolutely equal. If itself, constitutes a serious disadvantage in the handling of the car."

2. Adjustments. Brakes must be properly adjusted, lubricated, and kept free from dirt, gravel, and foreign substances, to prevent unequal pressure of brakes and possible locking of wheels. The burden of this responsibility rests on the owner, not on the factory.

3. Added Impedimenta and Lubrication. Four-wheel brakes double the number of parts in the braking mechanism, add about one hundred pounds of unsprung weight to the front end of the car, and create from twenty to thirty additional places (mostly inaccessible) requiring lubrication which must be applied by hand.

4. Decreased Car Efficiency. The added weight, extra parts, and increased friction resulting from four-wheel brakes decrease to some degree the efficiency of the car. Poorer acceleration, reduced hill-climbing ability, and increased gasoline consumption result.

5. Harder Steering and Control. The increase in unsprung weight, added parts, and friction necessarily increase the strength required to steer the car and to operate the brakes.

6. Expense of Maintenance. Extra service work in repairing, adjusting, and relining brakes puts the car in the shop oftener and increases the expense of maintenance.

Patent Situation

Four-wheel brakes have been in existence for about twenty years, during which time thousands of patents have been taken out in Europe and the United States, many of which have expired, and it is very doubtful if there are any basic patents preventing the use of four-wheel brakes.

European Experience

European manufacturers have experimented with four-wheel brakes for two decades. English manufacturers generally refuse to use them, although there are a few exceptions.

French manufacturers use them more generally, but many cars are equipped with "servo mechanisms," which are an added attachment intended to prevent locking of front wheels, insure equalization, ease the pedal pressure, etc., but this device introduces further complications of weight, lubrication and expense.

Trade Authorities

AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRIES—July 12, 1923

"In some cases the layout is such that the act of steering tends to release the front-wheel brake, rendering it less effective when the wheels are cramped. If, with this arrangement, steering is made harder, or the brakes less effective on a curve, or when the vehicle must make a sudden turn—as it must often do in an emergency—there is grave reason to doubt whether the braking is any safer with four- than with two-wheel brakes."

MOTOR WORLD—June 6, 1923

"If necessary precautions are not taken, skidding is liable to be more frequent and more serious than with rear brakes only."

Studebaker's Position

Studebaker research and engineering departments have been studying, experimenting with, and testing four-wheel brake mechanisms for two years.

These tests merely convince us that four-wheel brakes are unnecessary, mechanically impracticable, and dangerous in the hands of unskilled drivers.

The 1924 model Studebaker cars are equipped with brakes on the rear wheels only. The foot pedal operates the external contracting brakes and easily locks both wheels.

The hand lever operates the internal expanding brakes, and likewise locks the wheels easily.

Foot brakes are used in driving, and the hand lever to hold the car still when parked on grades, emergencies, if necessary.

Studebaker brakes are safe, simple, and practicable. There are no more reliable brakes in use on any automobiles.

The 1924 model Studebaker cars are not, and will not be, equipped with four-wheel brakes

BRINGING UP FATHER

THEATRES

"Bringing Up Father on Broadway"

A record breaking engagement should crown the next attraction at Grand theater Sunday, Oct. 8. The new play is entitled, "Bringing Up Father on Broadway" and is based on the famous comic of George McManus. Divided into two acts and five scenes, carrying the beloved characters through various countries all over the globe, the offering promises to provide plenty of merriment and unapproachable entertainment. A company, garnered from the cream of vaudeville, farce and legitimate has been engaged on a first class production. The musical numbers include 20 song hits, the other features being a real beauty chorus, imitable novelties, surprises and original ingredients certain to find acclaim with the most exacting patron of the theater. Charles M. Smith is responsible for the music with John P. Mulgrew credited as the author of the book and lyrics. The company is composed of 28 people.

Swallows Obey Whistle.

An expert in bird lore has been making a study of the peculiar actions of several hundreds of chimney swallows that make their home in the tall chimney of a paper mill in Onea, Conn. He has discovered that at exactly 6 o'clock each morning, when the whistle blows at a mill three miles away the hundreds of swallows rise from the chimney and fly away to their daily hunting grounds just as promptly as the hundreds of human workers answer the whistle. For two months, he says, they have not been absent or tardy. At night the birds return in small groups.

Preventable.

Sickness costs the United States $800,000,000 a year in lost wages and the total loss from preventable diseases and deaths is nearly $800,000,000, according to the national health council. How much of this could be prevented by better laws to ensure pure water and milk, and abolish slums and overwork and over-eating? How much by shutting out low-grade emigration?

Laughter Caused Death.

The metaphor, "dying of laughter," was translated into real fact in the case of an elderly man in Philadelphia, who was so tickled at the droolery of a movie comedian that he was unable to control his laughter and suddenly collapsed, dying in the arms of a woman sitting beside him. Physicians said that the victim's heart had been ruptured.

Citron's Remarkable Vitality.

A citron that he raised in 1921 was kept in the dining room of a St. Johnsbury (Vt.) woman. Wanting some seeds to start some plants in window boxes recently, she cut the citron open and found that part of the seeds had sprouted, one of the sprouts being nearly three inches long. The citron appeared to be in perfect condition.

WATCH FOR BABY PLANETS

Experts at the Naval Observatory Constantly at Work Taking Calculations and Photographs.

Those who imagine that astronomy is a finished science will be astonished to learn that at the naval observatory there are daily calculations and photographs taken of tiny planets whose number is not yet ascertained. These, called asteroids, spin about in our solar system like wee heads each in its own orbit, but follow in between the track of Mars and that of Jupiter.

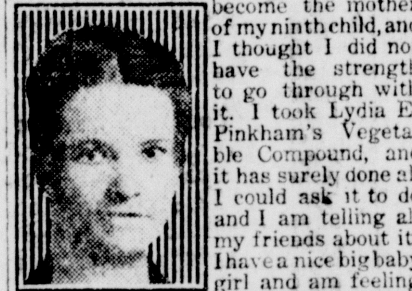

Studying these asteroids and discovering new ones is the work of photographic-telescope. The finest instruments are those in the possession of the naval observatory, and are the work of George Peters. In taking negatives there is a new exposure about once a minute, so that the course of the planet, or rather asteroid, is plainly shown by successive negatives.

These negatives are studied under a microscope and then compared with maps of the heavens. If any new little planet or asteroid appears, it is at once named by the discoverer. At present there are more than 700, but the number is increasing every year. Any day Uncle Sam is likely to catch a new one in his naval observatory net with its magnificent lens. Planet photography is now a specialty.—Washington Star.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers

Windom, Minn.—"I was so run-down that I was just good for nothing. I was to become the mother of my ninth child, and I thought I did not have the strength to go through with it. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has surely done all I could ask it to do and I am telling all my friends about it. I have a nice big baby girl and am feeling fine. You may use this letter to help other sick mothers."—Mrs. C. A. MOEDE, Box 634, Windom, Minn.

My First Child

Glen Allen, Alabama.—"I have been greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bearing-down feelings and pains. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet. A neighbor recommended the Vegetable Compound to me after I had taken doctor's medicines without much benefit. It has relieved my pains and gives me strength. I recommend it and give you permission to use my testimonial letter."—Mrs. Iba Rye, Glen Allen, Alabama.

DAMASCUS

B. S. Bayle, teacher of the two-room grade here has the people of Damascus wondering since last night. During a school fair at that school he was presented a package and letter by two robed Kiansmen who entered the school handing him the package and letter which he did not open much to the disappointment of those present.

At the school fair were many exhibits and Miss Mildred Stanley of the sixth grade won a prize for having the greatest number of exhibits. An entertainment provided by the pupils was enjoyed.

M. V. Stacy and Harold Stacy spent Saturday in Columbiana and Youngstown.

A number of Damascus women attended the Rebekah convention in Salem Friday.

The meeting of the Mahoning Pomona grange was held Saturday at the church here the Ladies' Aid society serving the dinner.

P. A. Callahan who has been visiting here has returned to Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Callahan and family are spending the week end in Zanesville with Mr. and Mrs. William Faudree.

I urge no one to wear glasses or have their eyes examined. If you do not value your eyes enough to have them taken care of properly, you are the loser, you have no one to blame but yourself. It isn't only you who pays the cost but the person depending upon you for support.

Do you know the condition of your children's eyes? If not it was time you were finding out about them. Now is their hardest time while in school. Don't blame the child for being "back in its studies," their eyes may be the cause. Come in and have their eyes examined.

NAME MISS PRICE NEW HOME AGENT

Columbus, Oct. 6.—Miss Price, assistant etc., leader of home demonstration in Ohio has been appointed to succeed Marie Sayles, her former chief, whose resignation as state leader was announced Monday.

The new state leader came from Massachusetts two years ago and has since assisted Miss Sayles in carrying extension instruction in home subjects into every county, despite the fact that there are at present only ten county home demonstration agents in the state.

This has been done by having county agricultural agents call meetings of interested farmwives who have acted as volunteer leaders in extending dress forms, fireless cookers, kitchen plans, and home conveniences throughout their home townships. No other state had tried this idea. Now several others, notably New Mexico, have adopted it as introductory to the establishment of county home demonstration agents.

In a statement announcing the change in leadership, H. C. Ramsower, director of extension, declares that Miss Sayles' resignation, necessitated by the death of her father and the need of her taking charge of things at home, "represents a loss to Ohio."

Miss Price was reared on a farm in Oregon. She taught rural school there, and later headed home economics teaching in the schools of Salem. Then she came east for graduate work in home economics at Columbia and following graduation was for seven years home demonstration agent of Hampden county, Massachusetts.

Men were her toys in the mad delicious game of love. In her luxurious apartments Sappho, the passion-flower, held court while the brains and the wealth of an entire continent sought her favor. The perilous depths of her eyes, the cruel curve of her lips, the intoxicating scent of her gorgeous body made hopeless slaves of men who came within her sinister influence. But there was one who strangely kept aloof, who was unafraid of her dangerous lures. And this man whom she desired above all others was beyond her reach. Here is the most thrilling and amazing love drama that has ever come to the screen, with the exotic Pola Negri in the triumphant role of her scintillating career.

BOOSTER WEEK NEWS

A Great Merchandising Event Combining the Display of New Fall Merchandise and Special Offerings of Seasonable Goods

Salem Merchants

are co-operating to make Booster Week the greatest piece of co-operative effort ever put forward by Salem merchants, for the purpose of thoroughly acquainting the population of Salem and vicinity of the advantages of this manufacturing and commercial city as a market and buying center.

Salem stores are filled to overflowing with new Fall Merchandise, all arranged for your easy inspection, and hundreds of special items are offered to make your visit profitable.

Weeks of preparation have been necessary to work out all the details in connection with Salem Booster Week.

The Fall season is a natural season for shopping—the children must be supplied with school supplies and school clothing; the family too must prepare the household for the winter months, new furniture, new draperies, new floor coverings, household utensils, hardware, jewelry and musical instruments, to while away the winter evenings.

The latest creations in women's coats, suits, cloaks, dresses, blouses, furs, hosiery, millinery, shoes and everything in wearing apparel at prices within the range of every customer.

New suits, top cats, overcoats, caps, hats, shoes, luggage and other furnishings for men have been received and will be displayed during the week.

Salem Booster Week, of course, is an attempt to increase the volume of business done by Salem merchants by giving the newest styles and best values. To encourage buying during this week over FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS IN GOLD will be given to twenty-one customers trading the most at individual stores during the week.

Read every ad in this circular and acquaint yourself with the many special offerings during Booster Week. Prove advertising by bringing this circular with you.

Facts
About
Salem

A City You'll Like

Founded in 1803 by Quakers from eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, Salem, the second largest city in Columbiana County, with its population of 12,000, lies 20 miles south of Youngstown on a good brick road connecting Cleveland, O., and Pittsburg, Pa., being 70 miles equidistant from each of these cities. In fact there are paved roads running through Salem in all directions. The Governor Cox main market route runs westward, connecting with the Lincoln Highway at Canton.

Salem is the center of a circle 100 miles in radius which includes over 5,000,000 people or One Twentieth of the population of the United States, providing excellent market facilities.

Salem is on the Fort Wayne division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and also gets Erie freight service over the tracks of the Youngstown and Ohio River Electric road. The Stark Electric road also serves Salem.

The First National bank has a capitalization of $100,000 and a surplus profit of $360,000. The Farmers National bank has a capitalization of $100,000 and a surplus of $137,062. The Citizens Savings bank has a capitalization of $50,000 and a surplus of $50,000.

Besides a modern high school, Salem has four graded schools and a parochial school. The Salem Business College also attracts students from surrounding towns.

Salem has a Carnegie Library, two hospitals, a Community House, two hotels, and churches of the Baptist, Catholic, Christian, Episcopal, Friends, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian denominations.

The Elks own a spacious home. The Masons have built a beautiful Temple. The Knights of Columbus, Loyal Order of Moose, American Legion, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs are also active in social and civic interests of Salem.

Attractions at Salem Theatres During Booster Week

State Theatre

Coming to the State theater on Monday and Tuesday is a production which will be welcomed as a pleasant change in pictures. It is "RAMONA," adapted from Helen Hunt Jackson's story of early California and the Mission Indians.

On Wednesday and Thursday there will be shown a picture that will echo in your heart like a magic melody. "MIGHTY LAK A ROSE." Come and hear the songs that are dear to every heart in the beautiful musical score played on the organ by J. Donald Strawn. By special arrangement the management has arranged with Miss Elizabeth Miller of Salem, noted soloist, to accompany this picture with these well known vocal selections.

For one night only, Friday, will be shown a return of the originally successful production of "BACK HOME AND BROKE" with probably one of the best light male stars of the screen, Thomas Meighan.

On Saturday, matinee and night, will be shown a very interesting picture, "WHAT WIVES WANT," with a very well balanced cast including Ethel Grey Terry, Niles Welsh, Vernon Steele, Ramsey Wallace and Lila Leslie.

Royal Theatre

Monday and Tuesday—"Man's Law and God's" featuring Jack Livingston and Ethel Shannon. A romance of the Canadian Northwest and of a mail courtship by proxy. Comedy, "Chop Suey Louie," featuring Joe Rock.

Wednesday and Thursday—"Java Head," A George Melford production. The lure of the Orient, the tang of the sea. A great romance with Leatrice Joy, Jacqueline Logan, George Fawcett and Albert Roscoe. A Paramount picture. Mack Sennett comedy, "On Patrol" with Billy Bevan and Mildred June.

Friday—"Sisters" from the novel by Kathleen Morris featuring Seeng Owen, Gladys Leslie and Matt Moore. Comedy "Buddy at the Bat," Art Acord "Oregon Trail."

Saturday—Lester Cuneo in "The Vengeance of Pierre," a drama of strong hearted men in the big timber. Two comedies, "Buddy at the Bat," and "The Godmother." Also Art Acord, "Oregon Trail."

High School Auditorium

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, special matinee Saturday at 2 p. m.

Wm. Mack and Enid Bennett head cast in film version of Mack play—"Your Friend and Mine."

One of the most entertaining photoplays presented at the High School auditorium this season. A screen version of the stage hit by Willard Mack, with the author in the role he played on the stage. It has all the elements that go to make a film of genuine satisfaction. Story acting, setting and direction are all of the highest order, leaving nothing to be desired.

Grand Theatre

At the Grand opera house for one night only, Monday, the 8th, will be presented the ever popular stage attraction, taken from George McManus' famous cartoons, "Bringing Up Father on Broadway."

DISRESPECT OF LAW GROWS

Tendency to Leave the Work to Federal Agencies Disturbs Washington, Which Says While Statute Stands It Must Be Enforced.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—There is every sign in Washington of a coming attempt to bring into closer relations the law-enforcing instrumentalities of the federal government with those of the states and the municipalities in an endeavor to make the country live up to the provisions of the Volstead law.

There are all sorts of views upon the righteousness, if that be the word to use, of a law which is intended to control a man's personal desires in the way of alcoholic indulgence, but the federal authorities say the law is the law and that they would be derelict in their duty if they did not attempt to secure co-operation in the work of seeing that the law is obeyed. Recent legislation in New York and in some other states has made it appear that some sections of the country are not anxious that their local authorities shall work with the federal authorities in prohibition law-enforcement. It is incumbent, however, on all law officers wherever their work may be to aid in enforcement of federal law, although according to one viewpoint these officers are not expected to go out of their way to look for violations, but only to attempt to check them when they come under their immediate sight.

Enforce It While It's the Law.

It is evident in Washington that the authorities are greatly disturbed over the tendency here, there and elsewhere to regard the prohibition law as one which it is entirely proper to violate. Whatever the viewpoint of the individual American is on the subject, it is certain that the United States intends to make a supreme effort to make the law respected. The feeling is that if congress chooses to act later to change the law fixing the legal alcoholic content of drink it may do so if it will, but that so long as the law is the law it must be enforced. This does not mean at all that the authorities think that the majority of federal officers have not tried to enforce the law which is being violated almost openly.

Recently Attorney General Daugherty submitted to President Coolidge a full report concerning the work of the federal judiciary in its efforts to enforce prohibition since the enactment of the Volstead law, nearly three and one-half years ago. Some persons have found something almost like despair in the tone of the attorney general's report, but to those who know him the note does not sound so much like one of despair as it does like one of indignation because certain elements in communities which usually can be depended upon to be law-obeying are shown in prohibition matters to be almost entirely law-disobeying.

Sordid Story, Says Daugherty.

A synopsis of the report which the attorney general made to the president has been made public. It says among other things that the Department of Justice has been called upon to prosecute a number of the judiciary, prominent members of the American bar, and high officers of the federal and state government who were willing to violate a law of the land in order to satisfy their appetite for drink. Further, the synopsis of the report says that the whole record of law violations and attempts at violation makes a sordid story of assassinations, bribery and corruption.

The apparent desire of the federal government today is to arouse to action the masses of Americans who believe in law-enforcement even if the laws which are to be enforced forbid some things which they think it is well within their rights to do. In other words, the authorities seem to think that fair-minded Americans once aroused will insist on law-enforcement even if they don't like the law, and will be willing to await the day when they can get the law changed.

It is possible that an attempt will be made next winter in congress to secure a change in the Volstead law. It can be said, however, that the advocates of the present law declare a great majority in the next house is opposed to any change in the statute. The only change that can be made, of course, is one which will fix the legal alcoholic content of drink at a higher percentage. As things are, however, a seemingly more intensive effort is to be made to enforce the law and to this end the federal government, it is said, will seek closer relations with state and local authorities.

REVALUATION ANTICIPATED

Court's Tax Ruling Affects Every Utility in Ohio.

ALL MAY NOW SEEK RELIEF

Decision of Federal Court May Be Followed by Revaluation of All Property in Ohio, Particularly Real Estate—Work of Public Utilities Commission During the Fiscal Year. Director Harper Orders Probe.

Columbus, Oct. 12.—A decision handed down by Federal Judge Sater here may be followed by revaluation of all property in Ohio, particularly real estate.

The court upheld the opinions of Master Commissioner Robert Nevins, Dayton, in his judgment in the case of the City Railway company of Dayton against Montgomery county. The Dayton company had complained that its property was being appraised at its true value and was taxed on this basis, while privately owned real estate went on the duplicate at a materially less than its real value and paid taxes on this reduced appraisal.

Contention of the company was sustained by Judge Sater's decision, which holds that all property is to be assessed at 100 per cent of its value. Judge Sater in his decision says that records show that in many counties real estate is valued for taxation in Ohio at less than its actual money value.

"All property in Ohio," the decision says, "stands on an equality and constitutes a single class, which is to be taxed at its true value. Parties whose property is unlawfully taxed at a materially higher rate, are entitled to relief at the hands of the courts." Judge Sater ruled that it should be the same. Many utility companies' suits are pending, waiting for this decision.

The decision, which held that the county could collect taxes from the utility corporation on only the same valuation basis that taxes were assessed on other property, is statewide in its application and will affect practically every utility which seeks to seek relief. The result will be a tremendous reduction in the tax duplicate and a consequent reduction in tax revenues throughout the state.

"I hardly think there will be any appeal taken in this case," Chairman Polney of the state tax commission said, "although we haven't discussed the matter with the attorney general. Apparently the only solution is a general periodic reappraisal law."

There has been no general reappraisal since 1910, with the result that valuations on public utility properties, fixed regularly by the tax commission, have so continued to advance with rising prices, while in most counties general property has remained on the duplicate at the values of a decade ago.

Opposition on the part of farmers throughout the state defeated a movement for reappraisal in 60 counties in 1920, when an attempt was made to raise general real estate valuations on the duplicate.

Former Governors Cox and Davis both opposed revaluation at that time and the tax commission refused to order the reappraisal.

The last legislature enacted a bill sponsored by Representative A. C. McDonald of Dayton, providing for a general reappraisal every eight years, but the measure was vetoed by Governor Donahay and no effort was made to reenact it over the veto.

If the auditor fails to act, the state tax commission may order reappraisal or the taxpayers themselves have power under present laws to obtain reappraisals in their respective subdivisions, the governor pointed out.

According to the report of the Ohio public utilities commission, security issues totaling $155,451,555.46 were authorized by the commission during the year ending July 1, 1933, for the purpose of continuing, extending and improving public utility services for the people of this state. Of the capital security issues authorized by the commission, $96,286,334.96 represented bonds and notes, while the amount of stock totaled $59,295,220.41.

The commission in its report also points out that during the year its bureau of rates and service had before it 1,206 informal complaints, of which 1,138 were adjudicated to the satisfaction of both parties. In 55 proceedings filed by shippers of freight for overcharges, the commission ordered refunds amounting to $55,438.56. During the year 243 formal orders were issued by the commission and 49 supplemental or modifications of previous orders were made. Among the matters acted upon by the commission in the year were 112 applications to approve new capital expenditures; 56 applications for property transfers, involving value of $1,516,229.00; 13 applications to abandon public services; 16 appeals from rates fixed by ordinance in municipalities; 47 complaints against utility services being rendered, an hundred of matters involving sale of property at public sale.

State-Federal Crop Statistician West announces that Ohio farm hands are migrating to the cities, where bigger wages are to be had, in ever increasing numbers. Most every farm in the Buckeye state is short-handed. "It is true that the new and modern farm implements relieve the labor shortage to a certain extent," said West, "but there have been so many farm hands decide to move to the city of late that even with all the modern farm conveniences the farmer is left short-handed."

According to West, the shortage in farm labor is most noticeable around corn husking time. Corn huskers are scarce in Ohio, although a good husker can make comparatively big money. From 17 to 20 cents a shock is paid the husker, and an able-bodied man should cut 30 to 50 shocks a day. It is pointed out that this would net the worker from $6 to $10 per day.

The whole problem seems to lie in the farm hands forming an inaccurate conclusion regarding the wages he can make on the farm and the wages he can make in the city. He would rather go to the city and work for $40 a week and have swamps of bills to meet monthly than to work on the farm for $20 where he also gets room, board and often is furnished his working clothes.

At this time, however, when farm products are bringing low prices, the farmer can not afford to pay good wages to the hands. Therefore, the increased migration of farmers to the city. "The Ohio farmer will either have to obtain more saving farm implements, curtail the amount of production or quit farming entirely," concluded West.

Welfare Director John E. Harper has ordered criminal prosecution of those responsible for the escape of inmates at the Girls' Industrial school as a result of the escape of two additional girls. Director Harper has requested Mrs. Mattie Pangborn, superintendent of the institution, to get direct evidence against any one who aids or encourages an inmate in escaping. Attorney General Crabbe will be asked to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law.

Because of the many improvements being made at the institution more than 50 men are employed on the grounds. The laundry plant is being moved, while higher ground will house the power house. Both of these have to be moved because of the river improvements.

"These men at the institution are working among the girls and they are known to have aided in several escapes. I have instructed Mrs. Pangborn to watch them and the minute direct evidence is secured against any one of them I will ask the attorney general to bring criminal prosecution," Director Harper said.

I have directed Mrs. Pangborn to make daily reports of all escapes, and the records will be open to the public. There have probably been the usual number of escapes during the past few months, but it is not because conditions at the school are not improved over what they were, but because these girls were tempted and induced to run away by a few workmen who are willing to run the risk of imprisonment. Prosecution is as certain to follow unless there is an immediate change of attitude on the part of the few men employed on the grounds by the contractors."

Two suits involving appeals from orders and decisions of the state public utilities commission have been argued before the Ohio supreme court.

One questions the jurisdiction of the commission in ordering the Lake Erie, Alliance and Wheeling railroad, leased and operated by the New York Central, to establish a physical connection with the tracks of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railroad at Hopedale. It is argued that the only reason for the desire of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia for the connection is to obtain from the New York Central additional cars, which it is unable to get from the Wheeling and Lake Erie, with which last named road it connects at Pittsburgh Junction.

The other suit is the appeal of the Southern Ohio Power company from an order of the commission requiring it to file rates and schedules with it as a public utility. The company avers that it is not a public utility, making that contention originally in asking to be discharged as a defendant in a proceeding before the commission complaining against rates charged by the Southern Ohio, the Athens Electric company and the Hocking Power company.

The Southern Ohio is shown to own all the stock in the other two companies, which are distributors of electric energy manufactured by the Southern Ohio at a plant located at Floodwood, supplying light, heat and power to private consumers in Nelsonville, Athens and contiguous territory, include many coal mines.

The commission originally granted the application of the Southern Ohio, but the supreme court reversed the ruling and held the company to be a public utility. The commission thereupon ordered it to comply as a utility but the company still contests its order.

If Your Light Bill Runs Higher This Month

—remember that daylight hours are growing shorter. You'll naturally use more electric light from now on.

Last summer you only glanced at the paper for a few minutes after supper. Too hot to stay indoors and read! Nowadays you read all evening, perhaps. At least you're around in the house.

The early morning hours are darker, too. If you rise early, you need light to shave by. All winter you'll eat breakfast by electric light. These added hours of service naturally show some increase in your bill.

Even so, electric light is cheap and abundant. You can burn twenty big 50-Watt lamps for a full hour and only consume one kilowatt of electricity.

This Free Book Lays Open the Inside of Your Motor

"OIL FACTS" is written both for the expert and for the motorist who knows nothing about his car.

"OIL FACTS" assumes that there is no use suggesting that a motorist use good oil without first showing him why he should do it.

Accordingly, the first part of the book tells in simple, non-technical language, well illustrated, just how an automobile motor operates.

In connection with this, you see clearly where your oil goes, what it does, and why it does it.

As a result, you will form, in your own mind, a vivid picture of the reasons why thousands of dollars worth of damage is unintentionally done to cars every year—you will clearly understand and appreciate why good oil adds years to the life of any car.

Regardless of how much or how little you know about your car, you will enjoy every minute it takes you to read "OIL FACTS."

Expect Harvey Will Direct Pre-Convention Campaign

London, Oct. 6.—The outstanding motive behind the retirement of Col. George Harvey as ambassador to the court of St. James is his desire to be on the ground and have a hand in the pre-convention jockeying that will precede the selection of a Republican nominee for the presidency next year. His friends here have no doubt about this.

When he returned from the United States a few weeks ago, Col. Harvey was accompanied by Will H. Hays, director of the Harding campaign, and the two have spent much time in going over the political situation that has developed since the death of Mr. Harding.

Both Harvey and Hays, it is said, are inclined to believe President Coolidge is the logical Republican candidate, but thus far they have not committed themselves, and in all probability will not do so for some time yet. They are more fearful of a split in the party than of any other one thing.

Three months vacation at home, during which Col. Harvey saw and conferred with many leading Republicans, convinced him that some careful diplomacy will be required if the Republican party is to escape an internal row that might be fatal to its chances of success next year. The colonel's love of politics is such that he desires to be on the ground when the "picking" days begin. It will be recalled that Col. Harvey's voice played an important part in the selection of Harding at Chicago in 1920.

Col. Harvey himself is not talking about his future plans, except to say that his "private business" needs his attention. He recently told friends:

"When I quit the embassy I am going to return to my own profession—writing. History perhaps."

London newspapers took the news of Ambassador Harvey's retirement calmly. It apparently created no great impression here.

The colonel has made a great many friends in London but in the main he has been too outspoken to become a great popular figure with the English as was the late Walter Hines Page.

It is even probable that high officials of the British government are secretly pleased at the going of the picturesque colonel. Some of the colonel's methods of diplomacy have merited the description of "tough-shod," so much so that the English would welcome an ambassador from the United States who would not tread so heavily upon custom and precedent.

Numerous conferences this week between H. P. Fletcher, American ambassador to Belgium, and Ambassador Harvey led to reports that Fletcher may succeed Harvey at the court of St. James.

Canton—Fred Esber, 4, was instantly killed when struck by an automobile here Wednesday.
